You will find a balance sheet of Labor's legislative wins and losses, the Governor's record, a description of key bills the Federation and our affiliated unions lobbied for and against, and a scorecard for all Senate and Assembly members on each bill. All unions should review this scorecard as they consider candidates to support for elections.

The stakes for the Labor Movement have never been higher.

Productivity has soared and we have a record number of billionaires. Yet millions of people who do the work are trapped in poverty, with inadequate housing, unsafe working conditions, and no power on the job. Union density has fallen in direct correlation to the rise in economic inequality.

Contingent work continues to grow and jobs that once offered a decent, middle class lifestyle have been made part-time, temporary, and low-wage. Throughout the economy, workers are being misclassified as independent contractors and denied basic benefits including the right to organize.

The Labor Movement made real progress this year in the fight against income inequality. We passed the strongest law in the country to stop worker misclassification. We passed a right to organize for childcare providers who have been fighting for decades to have a say in improving the quality of care for our children. We passed a ban on forced arbitration that silences victims and protects abusive bosses.

But we are just getting started. We must ensure that public funds are tied to good job creation. We must work toward single payer healthcare and help our unions control skyrocketing healthcare costs. We must enforce AB 5 and hold companies accountable for the violations of workers' rights.

We salute our 100%ers and we urge all legislators to stand on the side of working families and help us build a more fair economy.

In Solidarity,

Art Pulaski
Executive Secretary-Treasurer

“The Labor Movement made real progress this year in the fight against income inequality.”
